GENERAL FRANCIS MARION

The TATLER

VOLUME 27

1930

Published by the Senior Class of
WINTHROP COLLEGE
The South Carolina College for Women
ROCK HILL, S. C.

Dedication

In recognition of the splendid work that he has done in his first year as President of Winthrop College, and

In sincere appreciation of his interest in us as individuals and as a class we dedicate as an expression of our love for him, this issue of

THE TATLER
TO
JAMES PINCKNEY KINARD

Foreword

*" . . . Words are things, and a small drop of ink,
Falling like dew, upon a thought, produces
That which makes thousands, perhaps millions, think;
'Tis strange, the shortest letter which man uses
Instead of speech, may form a lasting link
Of ages."*

So sang England's poet, self-exiled, and history has proved the truth of his song. Thoughts, letters, words, ink—with such simple material has history recorded the work of Francis Marion and his brigade. Of such material have we made THE TATLER of 1930, with the hope that each "shortest letter" will be eloquent, to all who read, of the lights and shadows, the work and play, the ideals and achievements of our life at Winthrop.

College Song

*Fairest flower of the Southland,
Alma Mater of our youth,
Guide our minds in search of wisdom,
And our souls in search of truth.*

CHORUS

*Winthrop College! Winthrop College!
How our hearts beat high with pride!
Ever shall we stand together,
Winthrop daughters, side by side.*

*Fond the memories that cluster
'Round our campus and our halls,
Naught can ever dim the luster
Which thy hallowed name recalls.*

DR. DAVID BANCROFT JOHNSON
Our Beloved "Debe"
January 10, 1856—December 26, 1928

THE RESTING PLACE OF OUR "DEBE"

A Short History of Winthrop

"An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man."—EMERSON

Dr. David Bancroft Johnson, when he was in 1886 superintendent of the City System of Schools in Columbia, felt the need of trained teachers for the schools in that city. From this desire sprang the vision of a training school for teachers throughout the State, and later of a great state college for women. This vision has become a realization in the Greater Winthrop of today, the Winthrop College of nation-wide reputation and of nation-wide influence.

With indomitable courage and fixed determination he set about his task. He went immediately to Boston, Massachusetts, and there gained the confidence of Mr. Robert E. Winthrop, Chairman of the Peabody Educational Board. Under the will of the philanthropist, Mr. George Peabody, a fund had been established for the aid of education in the South. Winthrop became so much interested in the plans of the enthusiastic young southern school superintendent that he gave him an appropriation of fifteen hundred dollars with which to further his desires. This fund was paid as salary to Miss Mary H. Leonard, as principal of the school which was to grow into Winthrop College, the first teachers' college in the South Atlantic States. Later members of the faculty were Mrs. T. C. Robertson and Miss Annie E. Bonham.

The school with one teacher and nineteen students was formally opened November 15, 1886, in a small brick building used as the chapel of the Columbia Theological Seminary. After several years the school was moved to a more convenient building on Marion Street and the training courses were lengthened from one to two years.

Not yet, though, had the vision been realized. The dream was for a state college for women. Invoking the hearty coöperation of Governor Tillman, who strongly advocated normal and industrial work for women, in 1891 President Johnson got a bill passed in the Legislature for the establishment of a woman's college. This bill was passed and signed by Governor Tillman just before twelve o'clock on the last night of the session of the General Assembly for that year.

Offers of a site and contributions in money were made by many cities of the state. The offer made by Rock Hill seemed the most advantageous, and therefore the Board of Trustees selected the present location of the college. The cornerstone of the Main Building, in which the administrative offices are now placed, was laid in 1894. Immediately also, there was erected the first dormitory, North. In addition to this there have been erected up to the present five others.

The College now employs more than one hundred and fifty teachers and officers, and the plant embraces seventeen major buildings, and also a productive farm of two hundred and sixty acres. On this farm there is a herd of one hundred and twenty-five cows and many acres of gardens which help to supply the table for the students' dining room. For the work of construction here, Dr. Johnson, through his personal effort, received handsome donations from John D. Rockefeller, J. Pierpont Morgan, Andrew Carnegie, and others. The college plant is now valued at more than three and a quarter million dollars.

Dr. Johnson, founder and for forty-two years President of Winthrop College, died at his home at Winthrop on Wednesday, December 26, 1928. He lies buried on the campus within the shadow of the walls he loved so well, and in a spot where Winthrop daughters pass each day and bow their heads in silent gratitude in memory of him who gave his life for them.

Though President Johnson is dead, his spirit still lives. The college that he founded and nurtured still goes on under President James P. Kinard, who was closely associated with him for thirty years. Under the new executive, Winthrop still continues to grow and to serve the people of our state.

Senior Class Poem

*Now that the victor's crown is ours,
And our first goal is won,
We stand just at the door of life—
Our work is but begun.*

*Wisdom's portals are opened wide
For those who thirst for learning,
And those who have within their hearts
Ambition's fires burning.*

*Let us look to higher things
And strive always to be,
Symbolical of what is best,
In truth and loyalty.*

*The noble ideals Winthrop holds Inspire us to keep
Her image graven in our hearts,
As to the top we leap.*

*As each steps out, success should be Determined in her heart.
Life's road to us should not be hard
As at Winthrop's gates we part.*

Junior Class Poem

*The plains recede and hills with misty feet
Rear up their rugged sun-crowned heads, to greet
The dawn that wakes with promise on its lips.
Our road leads onward to the hills, and creeps
Into the mist; then clammers up, and sweeps
The summit. O'er the way there lies a higher hill
That echoes with the hearty challenge, "Hail!"
Of victors seeking greater heights to scale.
Accept the challenge? Shall it go unmarked?
Already those who flung it wave farewell,
Move on, and seek a higher place to dwell.
"Hail! Hail!" we take the challenge you have sent;
We'll mount the hill, we'll reach the summit high,
And throw our challenge back, thrill others with its cry
As you have challenged us to follow you.*

Sophomore Class Poem

*The ladder of success is high
On which our future hopes are hung,
And now that we are Sophomores,
We stand upon the second rung.*

*Sometimes the struggle will be hard
To try to meet life's stern demands,
But we're together, Sophomores,
To give each other helping hands.*

*And though the clouds are often dark,
Determined, we will never stop.
The ladder may be crowded, but

Freshmen

Page One Hundred Forty-nine

Freshman Class Poem

*A life's in the making; the thread's being spun;
Will the texture be fine when the weaving is done?
The threads are the lessons—don't fail! Make them strong!
So when they are woven, Life's robe will last long.*

*We, Freshmen, are weavers. Our work is begun;
Let's be proud of our pattern when weaving is done;
If we make one of beauty and usefulness, too,
It will still be wearing when our "life's work" is through.*

Athletic Song

*Come on, ye Winthrop girls, let's fall in line;
We'll find a game and play it, every time,
For basketball and hockey, I yell, I yell!
And for our tennis and our swims, I yell, I yell!
So fight, fight, fight, fight every time,
And to good health we all will quickly climb;
We stand for fair play, square play.*

Sis! Boom! Bah!

Rah! Rah! Rah!

Class Songs

SENIOR CLASS SONG

*As we go marching
And the band begins to p-l-a-y,
You can hear us shouting,
The Senior Class is on the way!
Oski-wow-wow! Ipsi-wee-wee!
Oski-wow-wow! Soak 'em, Thirty!
And we'll rough-house everybody
Till they holler, cut it out! out! out!*

JUNIOR CLASS SONG

*Nineteen hundred and thirty-one,
The class of Garnet and Grey,
Side by side with '33,
We'll fight to win the way.
Sometime in the near future
You will hear them say,
With plenty of pep
We've won the rep
For Junior Class!
Juniors! Juniors!
The class will back the cry,
We're here to do or die!
Juniors! Juniors!
We'll win the game or know the reason why!*

SOPHOMORE CLASS SONG

*Now that we are Sophomores
Don't you forget
We have the spirit,
We'll surprise you yet,
Just wait and watch us do it!
Class of '32 never gives in,
Fight to the finish, girls,
We're out to win!*

*Let us stand side by side, Freshman Class,
Let us fight to the end of the game;
Honor right, colors bright, Freshman Class,
And our spirits our only fame.
Oh, we're loyal to Garnet and Black,
And our sisters, the Garnet and Gray,
With courage new, we'll be true, Freshman Class,
And we will prove that our trust we'll ne'er betray.*

The annual editors of the colleges and universities of South Carolina held their first convention at Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., on November 14, 15, 16, 1929, with the following purposes:

1. To perfect an organization, elect officers, and appoint committees.
2. To adopt principles and regulations, fix date of meetings, etc.
3. To discuss individually our various problems.
4. To draw together socially.

With the above purposes in view, the South Carolina Federation of Annual Editors was formed.

Fun^{and} Satire

Situations Reversed

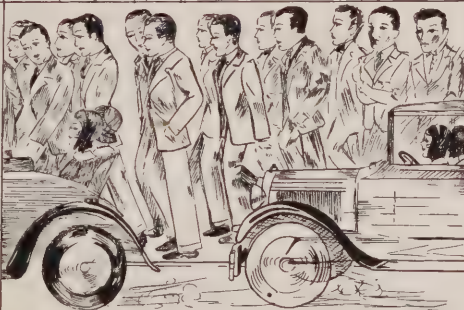

"Yee! I'm tired of tough ole Winthrop girls for dinner!"

"Cut out the noise!"

"This completes my lecture, proceed with the dissection."

Scene - Oakland Avenue
Time - any Sunday morning

"I can tell by looking at these girls that I wouldn't enjoy reading them."

With Apologies to Wm. Wordsworth

I wandered hungry as a cow
Who ambles on o'er vale and hill
When all at once I heard a row,
A blare of whistles from the mill;
It rent our ears, it shook the trees,
Growing louder with the breeze.

Continuous was the Winthrop line
That wandered up and down the way,
They stretched in never-ending line
About the campus every day;
Two thousand saw I at a glance,
Walking and running from South and Nance.

The bell began to toll, but they
Outdid the clanging bell with glee—
One could not slow down or delay
In such a rushing company;
I pushed and shoved but little thought
Of the meal that soon to me was brought.

For soon when to the door I pry
I look in a disgusted mood
From that which flashed upon my eye,
And then—I longed for solitude;
I heard the girls around me say
"Soup and apples again today!"

—B. S.

CAUTION

"Doctah, how's de way t' treat a mule dat's got distempah?"
"You bettah treat him wif respect, niggah!"

"To see ourselfs as others see us — " Faculty Row during lecture

The Prince of Wails!!

TOO DANGEROUS

Prof. Brown: "Aren't you taking my course next year?"

Student: "Can't possibly. I walk in my sleep."

"Why didn't you laugh at Professor Magginnis's joke, Jean?"

"Didn't have to; the term ends Saturday."

Some Winthrop classes are like dreams—you have to go to sleep to enjoy them.

Man: "Let me give you a piece of advice."

Scotchman: "What's the matter with it?"

Dr. Martin: "Oh, it was so interesting; the tombs and pyramids and things were all covered with hieroglyphs."

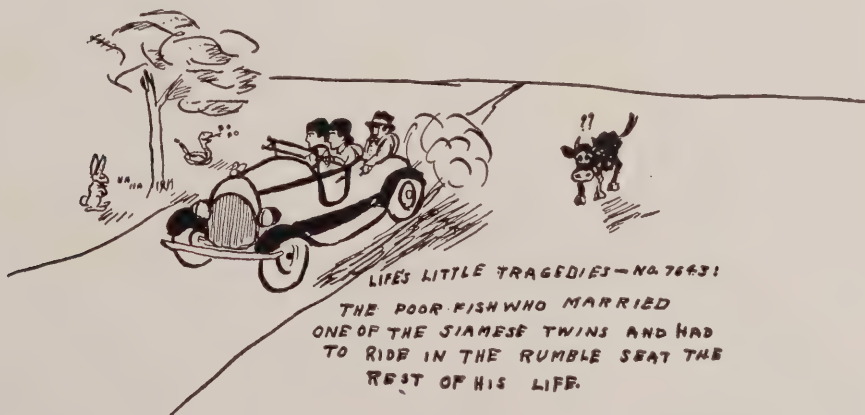

Dr. Dunning: "Hieroglyphs, eh? Well, I hope you had your throat sprayed."

She (tenderly): "When did you first love me?"

He: "When I began to get mad when people said you were brainless and unattractive."

Dr. Thomason: "What was the result of the flood?"

Miss Crawford: "Mud, sir."

PIERROT AND PIERRETTE

Pierrot stood on the campus
Behind the tree so tall
And cautiously he whistled
A pleading, urgent call.

Pierrette hung from a window
And waved a signal white,
The matron chanced to see her
And she'll not go tonight.

Pierrot waits on the campus
But, alas! he'll wait in vain,
Pierrette's up before the board
And she'll not slip again.

—B. S.

Miss Snook: "Don't you think it would be better if I'd cut out one of my four songs Sunday night?"

"Yes; a twenty-five per cent improvement."

Sarah: "May I borrow your lace collar set?"

Isabell: "Certainly, but why all this formality of asking for it?"

Sarah: "I can't find it."

Miss Cameron: "What is the principal difference between modern and ancient times?"

Miss Smyth: "One of the main points is that the modern earn their living, while the ancient urned their dead."

THE EASY LIFE

"You college girls seem to take life pretty easy?"

"Yes; even when we graduate
we do it by degrees."

TWO OPENINGS IN THE CHOIR

THE INDIAN UPRISING

A KEEN CRITIC

Small Boy (near Winthrop College): "Let's go through the campus; there's squirrels and lots of funny things in there."

Freshman on Chemistry Lab: "Why does Professor Naudain wear those high collars?"

Miss Craig: "So he can duck when there are any explosions."

Mr. Roberts (at Sunday night service): "If everybody else would only do as I do and stay in their seats till every one has gone out, there would not be such a crush at the doors!"

Margaret: "We used to have a dog that would howl when somebody played the piano."

Et.: "That's nothing; there are several girls in music hall who do that."

Judge: "It seems to me that I have seen you before."

Mr. Roberts: "You have, your Honor; I taught your daughter singing lessons."

Judge: "Thirty years."

"I met my fiancé in a department store."

"That's where Eve first met Adam."

"Aw, come on!"

"Sho' thing! It's just been discovered that Adam met Eve at the rib encounter."

Recent statistics show that half the people in the world are lucky in love. We presume that the rest are just plain lucky.

"Dr. Thomason is a deep thinker."

"I guess so. None of his ideas ever get to the surface."

Winthrop's contribution to the "light dessert" problem—marshmallows.

"What d'ya mean 'wallflower'??!"

After sitting in front of several loud speakers at the show on Saturday night we have decided that Winthrop has no particular need for a Vitaphone.

Visitor (at North Dorm.): "Can I see Miss McClung, please?"

Matron: "We do not allow visitors at this time. May I ask if you're a relative?"

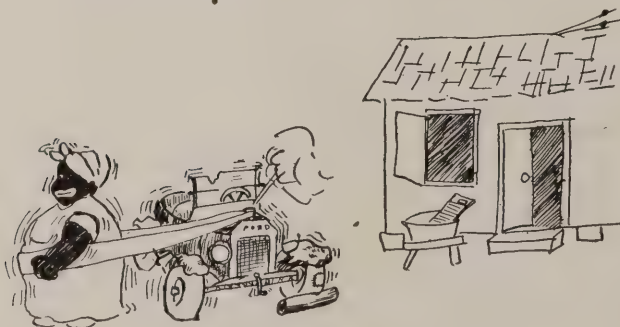

Visitor (boldly): "Oh, yes! I'm her brother."

Matron: "Dear me! I'm very glad to meet you. I'm her mother."

MISTAKE CORRECTED

"Look here!" said an excited man to a druggist, "You gave me morphine for quinine this morning."

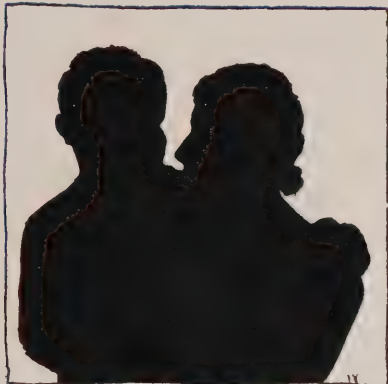

"Is that so?" replied the druggist. "Then you owe me twenty-five cents."

"There's no danger," said Dr. Dunning. "It's only a carbuncle coming on the back of your neck. But you must keep your eye on it!"

Mr. Brown: "Is insomnia catching?"

Mr. Haddon: "When the baby has it."

Two-in-One

FRIENDLY INTEREST

Grad: "The dear old college certainly takes an interest in a girl, doesn't it?"

Tad: "How's that?"

Grad.: "Well, I read that 'They would be very glad to hear of the death of any of their alumnae'."

UNCERTAIN

Mary had a little waist
Where Nature made it grow,
And everywhere that fashion went
The waist was sure to go.

Prophets declare that with the return of long hair and long dresses there will be a return to victorian morals. If this be true, what will the older generation find to talk about?

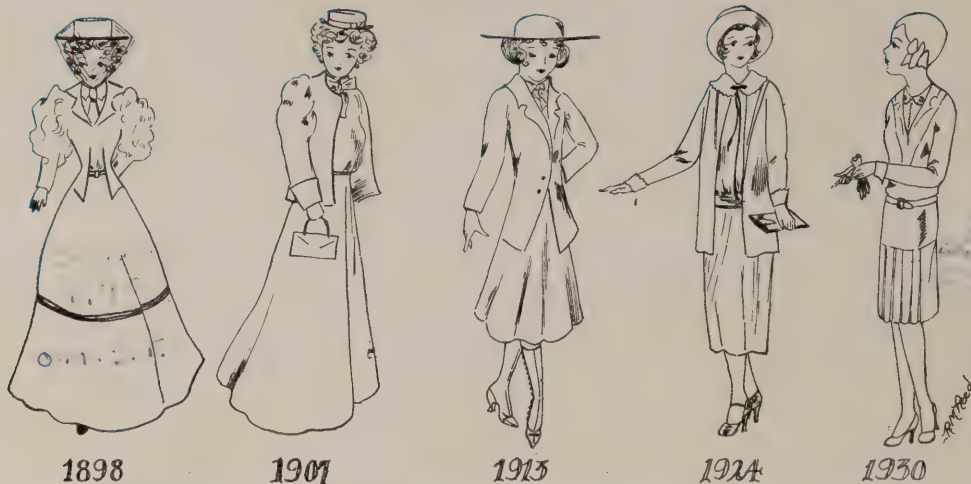

Prof. Magginnis: "What three words are used most among college students?"

Miss Diehl: "I don't know."

Prof. M.: "Correct."

INEBRIATE (as he spys junk pile): "Shay offisher, sh' anybody hurt 'n thish wreck?"

Evolution of the Winthrop Uniform

Every Winthrop girl is entitled to life, liberty, and the eternal pursuit of the collar she put in last week's laundry.

Dr. Keith: "Didn't you have a sister in this course last year?"
 "No, sir, it was I. I'm taking the course over again."
 "Extraordinary resemblance, this! Extraordinary!"

Student: "Going to the swimming meet, Miss Georgie?"
 Miss G.: "Where is it going to be, dear, in the auditorium?"

Outsider: "How many people work in your office?"
 Mr. Jones: "Oh, I should say, roughly, about a third of them."

Dr. Mance: "What effect does the moon have on the tide?"
 Miss Douglas: "None! It affects only the untied."

Student (writing home): "How do you spell 'financially'?"
 Other: "F-i-n-a-n-c-i-a-l-l-y, and there are two 'R's' in 'embarrassed'."

Dr. Thomason: "Did you ever hear the tale about the girl who loved the boy and the boy who loved the girl?"
 Student (sarcastically): "What an unusual story!"

Mrs. G.: "What did your girl learn at college?"
 Mrs. Douglas: "Says she can't tell me."
 Mrs. G.: "Why not?"
 Mrs. Douglas: "Says it's a secret."
 Mrs. G.: "Nonsense!"
 Mrs. Douglas: "No; you see, she learned the basketball signals."
